

Discover the satisfaction of helping people help themselves.

Habitat for Humanity of North Idaho provides Kootenai County families in need with a hand up, not a hand out. We help partner families break the cycle of poverty through homeownership.

We are an affiliate of Habitat for Humanity, a world-wide faith-based housing ministry. Our objective is to eliminate substandard housing by promoting decent shelter for all.

Habitat selects homeowner candidates without regard to age, gender, marital status, race, national origin, disability or religion. Selection is based on need, ability to pay, and willingness to partner.

Partnering requires that families dedicate hundreds of hours of "Sweat Equity" contributing to the ultimate value of their home.

We welcome volunteers of all ages, faith, and skill levels.

Habitat volunteers build communities one house, one family at a time.
